The Iconic F3 Locomotive

The classic F3 locomotive design hails from the Golden Age of American railroading and offers mighty 0 gauge action with two-motor power for hauling long trains.

The F3 is an iconic locomotive, often dubbed “the diesel that did it,” in the transition from steam to diesel locomotives. The Menards F3 features America’s most recognized railway graphics – the classic Santa Fe War-Bonnet livery that set a new visual standard for railway graphic design.

Not Just a Pretty Face

This precision crafted model has two powered motors, a rugged die-cast metal frame, metal truck side-frames, and power pickup rollers on each wheel set.

The F3 comes equipped with crew figures in the illuminated cab. Safety is assured along the line with a bright LED headlight, backup light, and classification lighting. The model has working front and rear couplers.

Cast-in detailing includes portholes, rivet/seam detail, and exhaust and radiator fans.

The model showcases premium painting and decoration of the complex Santa Fe silver, black, red, and yellow livery.

The F3 measures 13 inches long and weighs a robust 2 lb. 12 oz. It operates on 0-31 diameter curves, and all contemporary track brands.

Radio-Equipped

The F3 comes with an easy-to-use hand-held wireless controller. Easy for youngsters or adults to hold and use.

- Easy rotating forward-reverse directional control
- Select horn or bell sounds
- Trigger crew communications (25 unique phrases)
- Adjustable volume control
- Quick battery replacement

FEEDBACK WANTED

These engines have been in development for several years and delayed further by COVID-19.

This limited edition is our first locomotive, and we want to know your opinion of the model’s appearance, functionality, reliability, performance, value, and most of all, did you have fun running it? This will help guide us in the future.

Please email your thoughts and feedback to Ray at

Guest@menard-inc.com

Remember, the purpose of this test run is to gather feedback. The more people who get one, the better. With this in mind, and because the supply is so limited, we ask that you limit your purchase to one engine per customer.
