

OK St Paul, ~~Ross~~ Thanks You SEEM TO Be up on this. I ruined one Cross + Ross's Technician told me I would have to get a new one. - AT one time Steve told me that I might have ordered a Manual Cross, then when I ordered the new one I asked to have it wired. There SEEMED to be a problem and when I got the new cross it had only the 4 Green wires connected to Y + Z ON both ends of the cross.

The KEY I think is the Embedded ~~the~~ Prills that run thru the cross. with this Embedded Feature in mind the cross that I HAVE is a Ross 30° crossover and these are the points that are Metal

Correct The Embedded Feature means that I connect these points ~~that~~ the 1008 that the power will run thru to the other two legs ??
